Joel Perkerson served in the Revolutionary War, moved from Virginia to North Carolina in 1795, later moving to South Carolina and then to Jackson County, Georgia by 1806. He married three times--and was a grandfather of John Samuel Perkerson (1806-1862), who married Martha Frances Roseberry, and moved from Jackson County to Cobb County, Georgia. Descendants lived in Georgia, Michigan, Texas and elsewhere.

The Congressional Record is the official record of the proceedings and debates of the United States Congress. It is published daily when Congress is in session. The Congressional Record began publication in 1873. Debates for sessions prior to 1873 are recorded in The Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States (1789-1824), the Register of Debates in Congress (1824-1837), and the Congressional Globe (1833-1873)

Annual Report of the State Board of Health of the State of Ohio, for the Year Ending

In an attempt to recreate some of the early days in Paulding, Ohio, the author has created a journal that might have been written by a resident of the village. Founded in 1850, at first Paulding was a rough and tumble hamlet with most of the residents involved in the timber industry. Gradually, the land was cleared and agricultural pursuits replace timbering and the manufacture of wooden products. This journal illustrates some of the changes which occurred through eight decades in this northwestern Ohio village.
