En este su primer libro, el Dr. Silverio Salinas nos enseña su método 100% natural para auto ayudarse a sanar prácticamente casi cualquier tipo de dolor. Adiós al dolor es un manual práctico donde aprenderás a reconocer cuales son las causas primarias y secundarias de tus dolores y malestares. Aprenderás a eliminar dichas causas y a restaurar tu salud y bienestar en forma natural y sencilla. Adiós al dolor te muestra la lista de alimentos que pudieran estar causando tus dolores y como los metales que usamos como joyas y trabajos dentales pudieran también ser la causa primaria de nuestros dolores. En “Adiós al dolor” encontraras la lista blanca de alimentos naturales y nutritivos que te ayudarán en el proceso de eliminar tus dolores. También encontraras una serie de ejercicios para promover la salud y eliminar el sedentarismo. Lo más interesante y práctico de este manual es la técnica de aurículo masaje (auto-masaje) que hallarás casi al final del libro para que, practicándola, te ayudes tu mismo a aliviar tus dolores. Otra manera rápida de auto ayudarse a aliviar el dolor es la técnica de magnetos con polaridad Norte que hallarás en el capítulo sobre magnetos contra el dolor. En esta tercera edición, corregida, mejorada y aumentada, el Dr. Silverio Salinas comparte contigo su experiencia de 25 años y más de 50 mil consultas en diversos países para enseñarte como liberarte definitivamente y para siempre de tus dolores. En 1997 y 1998 presentó públicamente su técnica de Aurículo Analgesia en los dos Networks de TV hispanos más grandes del mundo, Telemundo y Univisión donde el autor liberó del dolor a un par de miles de personas con solo presionar puntos de analgesia en el oído. Si eres una persona que padece de cualquier condición o problema de salud que curse con dolor de cualquier naturaleza, cronicidad o intensidad, entonces “Adiós al dolor. Por fin, la solución natural al dolor humano” es para ti. Para que aprendas a eliminar el dolor de una vez por todas y para siempre.

The Continuation of Paul Nogiers FindingsAuriculotherapy is based on proven correspondences between locations on the external ear and the internal organs and systems of the body. The ear acts like an input/output terminal in direct contact with the central nervous system. Information on viscerosomatic states can be accessed via visual clues, skin electro-conductivity, and pressure sensitivity at specific points. The first part of Raphael Nogiers Auriculotherapy shows how acupuncture needles, magnets, infra-red laser, and electrical frequencies are used in sophisticated and powerful therapeutic interventions that can be highly effective at restoring the homeostatic balance necessary for physical health and mental-emotional well-being. The second part introduces the principles and practice of Auriculomedicine, a true frequency medicine that evolved from Dr. Nogiers auriculotherapy, his discovery of the VAS (Vascular Autonomic Signal) in the pulse and his consequent observations of the diagnostic and therapeutic properties of radiant light frequencies on the skin.The material presented here builds on and updates the work of the authors father, Dr Paul Nogier, who scientifically explored and charted the auricular microsystems in the 1950s. The latter is widely credited with re-introducing the practical application of auricular acupuncture to China in the 1960s where the technique had fallen into disuse. The auricular location charts currently in use in China and the west are largely based on his findings.A serviceable, contemporary work for students of acupuncture as well as practitioners, offering clear and practical information to be applied directly for the benefit of patients.

Written by many scientists and clinicians from China, USA, Canada and other countries, this monograph discusses translational research on acupuncture. Besides general topics on acupuncture practice (e.g., different styles and techniques of acupuncture), topics include some refractory diseases such as chronic fatigue syndrome, Parkinson’s disease, cardiovascular dysfunction, chronic pain, post-concussion syndrome and post-traumatic stress disorder and cancer-related symptoms. The factors influencing acupuncture research are comprehensively addressed in the final chapter. This unique book provides a translational perspective on modern acupuncture for not only acupuncturists, but also neuroscientists, neurologists, and other clinicians. For medical students and undergraduate and graduate students majoring in biology, this book is an advanced course for learning the progress in alternative and complementary Medicine.

I've been fortunate enough to work hand in hand, day in and day out with six different Traditional Chinese Medicine doctors for 5 years in China. In fact, I got the very first License to Practice Medicine as a Foreigner Doctor in the county I worked. Over time I was able to craft the most common acupuncture points that got results for 40 different conditions. What really surprised me was how often patients would come directly to our department for conditions besides neck and back pain; of course not every one got better. This book is not about the history of acupuncture nor an almanac of all the points in the body. What you get are the protocols (actual acupuncture points) needed to try a no needle acupuncture version at your own home for 40 common conditions in as little as 25 minutes. I'll tell you what to use to stimulate the points as well. Look, this book has a reference list of all the points you will need, descriptions on how to find them written for non-doctors and pictures of each point for each condition on actual human diagrams. As in, the headache blueprint has several pictures on a page with the acupuncture points and names clearly shown. You can now go find a description of each point in a different section of the book to make sure you are on the exact spot. Plus, there are quick reference charts for each condition and the acupuncture points listed underneath. Get it today. I even added auricular "ear" points for 30 of the conditions as a bonus Needleless Acupuncture is for you EVEN IF: You tried acupuncture in the past but the bills got to high before you could experience relief. You prefer a natural approach to dealing with your health concerns. There's not an acupuncturist within an hours drive . You need a health tune-up at least every month and it's time to do it with self-care. You already tried chiropractic, physical therapy and massage but you didn't get the results you expected. You might be taking medication but are worried about the side effects and long-term consequences. You are too busy during the day to spend two hours getting treatment at the local clinic. Your health is your priority and you want to try and take care of this on your own. *Doctor's can't make promises and guarantees on results and this book can't either. If any of these sensational headlines about what is inside this book resonate with you and your health, then it should be in your hands. Written by over 60 scientists and clinicians from the United States, mainland China, Germany, Australia, Japan, Sweden, Portugal and Hong Kong, Current Research in Acupuncture discusses recent advances in acupuncture research in a modern scientific language. The first 5 chapters investigate the basic mechanisms of acupuncture. Later chapters explore topics including acupuncture treatment and potential mechanisms for epilepsy, Parkinson’s diseases, neurodegenerative disorders such as Alzheimer’s disease, vascular cognitive impairment, aging, anxiety, polycystic ovary syndrome, pain, nerve root cervical spondylosis, stroke, inflammation, myocardial ischemia and other cardiovascular diseases. Following the translational and clinical discussions, 4 chapters present new prospects for acupuncture theories and applications. The final chapter comments on the pitfalls and problems of the previous studies and suggests direction for future research towards in-depth understanding of acupuncture, along with better application of acupuncture in modern medicine. Each chapter is written by one or more experts in the field. This unique book provides a broad perspective on the principles of acupuncture for acupuncture researchers and neuroscientists. The laboratory and clinical investigations of various acupoints and optimal conditions provide unique clues to acupuncturists for improved clinical efficacy. For a medical student, this book is a modern course in ancient Traditional Chinese Medicine, especially acupuncture. Ying Xia, the chief editor, is Professor and Vice-Chairman of the Department of Neurosurgery at The University of Texas Medical School in Houston, Texas, USA. Guanghong Ding is Professor in the Department of Mechanics and Engineering Science at Fudan University and Director of Shanghai Research Center for Acupuncture and Meridians, Shanghai, China. Gen-Cheng Wu is Professor of Neurobiology; Chairman, Department of Integrative Medicine and Neurobiology; Director, Institute of Acupuncture Research; and Director, WHO Collaborating Center for Traditional Medicine, at Shanghai Medical College of Fudan University, Shanghai, China.

This comprehensive manual on auriculotherapy presents the basic principles of ear acupuncture in an informative yet easy to understand manner. This intriguing system of treating areas of the body by their holographic relationship to specific areas of the ear is graphically shown in illustrative pictures & descriptive text. Dr. Oleson has integrated his pioneering research on auricular diagnosis & auriculotherapy conducted at the UCLA Pain Management Center with clinical information compiled from both traditional Chinese acupuncture tests & from the innovative work of the French physician Dr. Paul Nogier. This textbook delineates the precise location of over 250 ear acupuncture points, including Nogier's three different phases of auricular medicine.

Auriculotherapy treatment plans are presented for over 200 medical disorders, including specific treatments for headaches, back pain, sciatica pain, TMJ dysfunction, smoking control, narcotic addition, weight control, arthritis, asthma, & anxiety. The somatotopic correspondence of different body organs to specific areas of the ear are shown in graphic pictures of auricular anatomy & distinct auricular landmarks. An auricular nomenclature system is used to describe master points, as well as specific ear points for treating disorders of the musculoskeletal, gastrointestinal, respiratory, cardiovascular, endocrine, & nervous systems.

The ear reflex points presented in this handbook are based upon extensive research conducted at the UCLA Pain Management Center which compared the pioneering auriculotherapy work of the French physician, Dr. Paul Nogier, to ear acupuncture charts developed in China. Auriculotherapy is an alternative treatment modality used to alleviate different conditions of the body by stimulating specific regions of the ear. The external ear is somatotopically viewed as an inverted fetus, with specific parts of the body represented on specific regions of the ear in an orderly arrangement. To allow for international understanding of this innovative, clinical procedure, all ear reflex points have been identified by a specific number, an indication of whether it is a point within the Chinese or French auricular nomenclature systems, and a name which corresponds to the body that is represented. All ear relex points names have been listed in nine languages: English, French, Spanish, German, Japanese, Korean, Russian and Persian. Also, presented is a new, standardized, auricular nomenclature system designating anatomical zones of the ear for the use in international communications. Specific auriculotherapy treatment plans for addictions, pain, and a variety of other clinical problems are shown in detailed drawings of the ear. The most popular section of this book is the pictured treatment plans the twenty-seven disorders most effectively treated using auriculotherapy.

The Clinical Reference Guide for Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine Independently Published Segunda edición de este atlas fotográfico de acupuntura que reúne, de manera clara, exhaustiva y con material gráfico especializado de excelente calidad, el contenido fundamental que el profesional debe conocer acerca de esta disciplina. La terapia de acupuntura exige no sólo conocimientos para encontrar puntos concretos sino también una comprensión del contexto de estos puntos. Por ello, este atlas incluye tanto una descripción de los puntos individuales como la idea de la que parten: el sistema de meridianos. La autora presenta así pautas anatómicas para localizar dichos puntos de acupuntura corporal y auricular en la superficie del cuerpo, describiendo su correcta ubicación y significado, así como la dirección y profundidad de la punción con agujas. El diseño de las páginas, claramente estructurado y complementado con pictogramas, permite un acceso rápido a la información clínicamente relevante para la localización e indicación de los puntos individuales. Unas instrucciones precisas y detalladas paso a paso guían al lector a través de la anatomía superficial hasta la posición correcta del punto. Figuras (alrededor de 570 ilustraciones y 700 fotografías) con las estructuras anatómicas relevantes, así como dibujos que muestran las rutas de los meridianos relativas a la región pertinente del cuerpo, proporcionan una ayuda práctica adicional para la ubicación correcta del punto. El objetivo de este atlas es, por tanto, ayudar a los estudiantes, docentes, terapeutas y profesionales de la acupuntura y la Medicina China a determinar la ubicación correcta de los puntos de acupuntura, que será aquella donde pueda palparse, abordarse energéticamente de un modo seguro y donde resulte terapéuticamente eficaz. Emotional trauma can upset the harmony of the body and reduce the body's ability to heal and regulate itself. Once the traumas are identified and treated, the body will function at an optimum level and will respond to treatments for other conditions present. This book integrates the multi-diagnostic and treatment methods existing in Chinese medicine, and contains diagnostics such as facial, pulse, tongue, and channel palpation diagnosis. Treatments include acupuncture, Chinese herbal formulas, qigong, shamanic drumming, and lifestyle and nutritional recommendations. Many types of emotional traumas and their manifestations are presented, including fear, anxiety, panic attacks, PTSD, depression, mood swings, insomnia and sensory organ impairment. How to prevent future emotional trauma will be discussed, and case studies are included to show the application of theory in practice.
